TYRONE HIGHWAY TO REQUIRE YEAR TO BE COMPLETED

Sandy Ridge To Bald Eagle Section Must Be Left Till Next Season; Labor Shortage Felt.

TYRONE END DONE

The State road over the mountain from Sandy Ridge to Tyrone, one of the best links in the Lakes-to-the-Sea highway, which the Sprout administration tried so hard to complete during the past four years, will have to go over for another year, and by that time the road will not be entirely completed between the two points before next season. The piece remaining uncompleted is that section extending from Sandy Ridge to Bald Eagle. Clark Brothers Construction Company has the contract for this piece of road which will require several months of next year to complete.

From Bald Eagle to Vail, the contracting is going on apace and will be completed in about two weeks. At Vail, work is being finished upon the magnificent three-span concrete bridge which is built on a skew. The crossing across the Bald Eagle branch will not be completed this year.

As is known, there is a determined campaign to eliminate this grade crossing by an overhead bridge, which matter is now in the hands of the Public Service Commission. However, the two sections of concrete—on both sides of Vail will be joined by a well graded piece of road and then when a final decision is made as to the railroad crossing, they will be joined by concrete, but this will be a separate contract.

In all probability the decision will be for an overhead bridge. Surely the national campaign to eliminate the grade crossing should receive an actual impetus at Vail, by the construction of an overhead bridge.

The Hernan & Gass Company, of Latrobe, is working on the valley section of the road. These contractors have the link between Vail and Northwood, Tyrone, completed with the exception of a few hundred yards at the Vail end. As far as completed, the road is open to traffic.

At Tyrone the southern termination of the Lakes-to-the-Sea highway merges with the William Penn highway, and then on to the east. The Tyrone Herald, in referring to the link from Northwood to Vail says:

"A trip out through Northwood and on to Vail over the new road is a revelation. One cannot help but respect back over the years, when for about two-thirds of every year that road was one of the worst about Tyrone. It was winding and crooked and the black loam made a dark sticky mud that was an abomination. But now the revelation—it seems like a dream. White concrete stretches away; the curves so graceful they are not noted while riding in a car; a better level has been established. Several violent turns have been eliminated.

"The right handed turn at the old Blair farm is now of the past, as the

ARGUES TO QUASH INDICTMENT OF H. M. KEPHART

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 25.—The first round of the legal test of the Commonwealth's case against former State Treasurer Herman W. Kephart, under indictment for misappropriation of money, was fought out today when counsel for Mr. Kephart argued for a motion to quash the indictment. Wm. A. Glasgow, counsel for Kephart, argued that the indictment, if any, was subject to impeachment proceedings and not criminal prosecution. Deputy Attorney General H. H. Applegate to represent Mr. Kephart and vigorously opposed quashing the indictment.

The questions at law in this case will provide material for one of the greatest legal battles in the history of the State. The state's action rests on the common law and must be based on old English law in force prior to colonial times. Attorney Glasgow in his argument cited the Warren-Bush case in English courts and also the proceedings against William Penn drawing parallels to the Kephart case supporting his contention that impeachment was the only course open to the state under our laws.

REV. HALL AND MRS. MILLS WAS CONSTANTLY WERE SPIED UPON

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 25.—Rev. Edwin Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were constantly being spied upon for a long time prior to the day of the murder according to new evidence unearthed by the state authorities.

Mrs. Millie G. Hall, whose telephone was frequently used by Mrs. Mills to call the Rev. Hall, said the couple were so afraid that they would be made that they had arranged a set of signals by which the calls were identified before conversation ensued. Mrs. G. told how Mrs. Mills, before starting a conversation would whistle a few bars of the tune "Just like a Tyne" which, judging from the house of that before, saying "hello", was answered by some prearranged signal or code.

Mrs. G. also said that Mrs. Mills had been very despondent and depressed at one time, much after the style of "I cannot find a way out" and

HARRISBURG CLERK KILLS LANDLADY THEN SHOTS SELF

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 25.—Samuel H. Hinkle, a young railroad clerk, shot and killed his landlady here last night during the absence of her husband. The victim, Mrs. Mary Wagner, is known to have been instantly killed by a pistol shot. Her body was discovered by her husband when he returned home this morning. Hinkle had been under him off in his room and shot him off in his room. In his room was found a six-powdered shotgun, a knife and a bottle of chloroform in addition to the murder gun.

Ousted Divine, Defending, Tells Of His Belief

Omaha, Oct. 25. (U. P.)—Rev. J. D. M. Buckner of Aurora, Nebraska, retired as a minister of the Methodist church last September for alleged "heresy," as the recommendation of Bishop Homer C. Stuntz of Omaha, bishop of the diocese, fired the opening gun in his fight for reinstatement today when his book, "How I Lost My Job as a Preacher," came off the press.

The ousting of Buckner came as a result of an article published under his name in the Omaha World-Herald last spring entitled, "A Good God," in which Rev. Buckner branded many portions of the Bible as directly contradictory to the accepted Christian belief that God is good.

"We all believe that God is good," said some of the things the Old Testament ascribes to him are pretty bad, and if performed by a citizen of Aurora, we would be horrified," Rev. Buckner declared. "I am compelled to believe either that God was once bad or that the record as written in the Bible is wrong.

"For instance, I do not believe that all the Bible is equally inspired, but that inspiration is measured by the intelligence as well as the faith and love of the writer.

"I do not believe that God told the Hebrews to kill the Canaanites, men, women and innocent children, and to confiscate their property.

"I do not believe that God told David to murder Israel and that when he did it God became angry with David and sent a plague and killed 70,000 unoffending men.

"I do not believe that because a few curious men peeked into the ark, God became angry and killed 30,000 innocent men.

"I do not believe that God caused two she-bears to devour forty-two playful children because they shouted 'Bail Hail!' at Elisha.

"I do not believe as the 'old school' Christians believe, that salvation is secured by believing certain things, and performing certain ceremonies; I believe salvation is progressive and takes place in the heart of man."

These statements called forth a letter of denunciation from Bishop Stuntz, who declared himself "both amazed and shocked" at "such an unprovoked and unwarranted declaration of disbelief in the word of God," which he said had brought "unfavorable publicity" to the Methodist church.

Buckner said pressure was brought to bear upon him to retire as a minister voluntarily, to avoid the unpleasant publicity of a trial for heresy, but that he refused to do so and demanded trial. This was denied him and at a subsequent meeting of the conference, Buckner was quietly retired.

Resolutions denouncing the action of the conference at Omaha, passed by the official board of the Methodist church at Aurora, in which Buckner had preached for eleven of his 40 years as a Methodist clergyman, had no avail. Many members of the church urged the official board to hire Rev. Buckner in spite of the action of the conference, while others, including some of the heaviest contributors, say they are "through with the church. Since the entire membership is united in refusing to accept another minister sent out by the Methodist conference to take Rev. Buckner's place, it is probable that the congregation will dissolve.

Buckner has been deluged with letters of encouragement and sympathy from church people, educators and ministers of many faiths, among whom a number declared they also "have doubts—but don't preach them."

A split between the preachers of the "old school" and the "new school" of Christianity threatens in Nebraska, as a result of the publicity given these letters, which will be heightened by the charges made by Rev. Buckner in his book.

Mrs. E. J. Turner and Mrs. Abe Richards spent Tuesday in Phillipsburg.

M. F. Hoffman's funeral will be held from his home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 p. m.

EVANS RESIGNS AS POSTMASTER OF DUBOIS CITY

Finds Private Business Pressing On His Time and Quits So that Public May Be Served.

HAD GOOD RECORD

Dubois, Oct. 25.—W. T. Evans, postmaster of Dubois, has sent his resignation into First Assistant Postmaster General Barlett, Washington, D. C., the resignation to become effective November 15th.

The announcement of this act on the part of Mr. Evans will come as a distinct surprise to the citizens of Dubois, as no intimation of it has been given to the public.

In taking this step Mr. Evans holds the belief that he is doing the square thing by the public and also by himself. Mr. Evans has extensive interests, aside from the position of postmaster, and he finds that he cannot do justice to the duties of the federal position and at the same time do justice to his own interests. He has, therefore, sent in his resignation to the post-office department and will, following the appointment of a temporary successor, devote all of his time and attention to his private affairs.

Mr. Evans has been the postmaster in Dubois since last spring, succeeding Con Allen, whose term had expired, and at once took personal supervision of the manifold duties of the office. There was never any question of Mr. Evans' capability and he did what everyone believed he would do—took up the duties of postmaster in a competent manner and at once went to work to give the public the best service possible at all times. He succeeded most admirably in every respect, and it is with regret that the public will learn of his resignation. Mr. Evans himself quite modestly, as he states that he likes the work and finds it of a most congenial nature.

PREMIER BONAR LAW NAMES HIS CABINET TO RULE BRITAIN

The new Unionist Cabinet was sworn in today, the members receiving their seals of office.

London, Oct. 24.—Premier Bonar Law tonight issued a list of principal members of his ministry. His own name not mentioned in the official list, which leaves it to be observed that he takes no other office than that of prime minister, and first lord of the treasury. The cabinet officials announced follows:

Lord President of the Council—Marquis of Salisbury.

Lord High Chancellor—Viscount Curzon.

Chancellor of the Exchequer—Stanley Baldwin.

Secretary for Home Affairs—William Bridges.

Secretary for Foreign Affairs—Marquis of Curzon.

Secretary of the Colonies—The Duke of Devonshire.

Secretary of India—Viscount Peel.

Secretary of War—The Earl of Derby.

First Lord of the Admiralty—Lieutenant Colonel L. C. M. S. Amery.

President of the Board of Trade—Sir Arthur Griffiths-Boscawen.

Minister of Agriculture—Sir Robert A. Sanders.

Secretary of Scotland—Viscount Nathan.

Attorney General—Douglas Hogg.

Many Women Seeking High Office In '22

Washington, Oct. 25. (United Press.)—More women are seeking political office this year than ever before in the history of the country, according to information compiled by women's organizations here.

Twelve of the "fairer sex" successfully weathered the primaries and are seeking to defeat men for seats in the Senate, the House, or State governorship. Scores of others have stirred up warm political battles for men seeking minor offices.

The first woman to reach the Senate is Mrs. Felton, the grand old lady of Georgia, recently appointed to succeed the late Senator Tom Watson, until someone is elected next month to fill out his term.

Four women are running for the honor which Mrs. Felton received, while seven are seeking House seats and one wants to be a governor.

The hopes of the women for Senatorial seats rest largely with Mrs. Peter Olson of Minnesota and Mrs. Ben Hooper of Wisconsin, the only women to receive Senatorial nominations of one of the major political parties. Both are Democrats.

Senator La Follette's unusual strength in his State, as revealed in the primary, will make it extremely difficult for Mrs. Hooper to win, but Mrs. Olson is understood to be giving Senator Kellogg a race in Minnesota that is "worthy of any man."

The Republicans have two women seeking election to the House, while the Democrats have three, and the Prohibitionists and the Socialists one each.

Miss Alice Robertson, the only woman member of the present Congress seeking election to the House, while the Democrats have three, and the Prohibitionists and the Socialists one each.

Wisconsin: Mrs. Ben Hooper of Oshkosh, Democratic party, is running for Senator against Senator La Follette.

Washington: Mrs. Frances Axtell running for the Senatorship against Senator Poindexter.

Candidates for U. S. House.

Illinois: Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, Republican, is running for the seat held by her late father, Representative W. E. Mason.

Oklahoma: Rep. Alice Robertson, for re-election.

Missouri: Mrs. Lucile St. Clair Moss, Democratic nominee from Eighth Congressional District. (President, Christian College, Columbia, Mo.)

Pennsylvania: Mrs. Ellen Duane Davis, Democrat, of Philadelphia, is running for Congress. (She is chairman Woman's Democratic Organization, 8th Ward, Philadelphia); Helen Murphy, of Philadelphia, running for Congress on Socialist ticket; Julia H. Hazard, on Prohibition ticket, running for Congress; Jane E. Leonard, of Indiana, Pa., Democratic party, running for Congress.

Candidate for Governor.

South Dakota: Miss Alice Lorraine Daley, Non-partisan League, is running for governor of that state.

RED MEN'S SHOW AGAIN PLAYS TO CAPACITY HOUSE

The Red Men's minstrels ended their two-night stand at the Driggs theatre last evening and despite the fact of there being so many counter attractions about the town again played to a fine audience.

The performance was even better than that of the opening evening, the different numbers eliciting much applause.

Those participating in this minstrel have every reason to feel proud of the signal success of their efforts, while the Turner Minstrel Company, which trained and staged the show, deserve congratulations for their good work.

The Red Men will receive a handsome sum as their share of the proceeds.

WAGON LOADERS TO BE DEPRIVED OF CAR SUPPLY

Beginning Monday last, "wagon-loading" coal operators are expected to have difficulty in disposing of their product except to home consumers, owing to an order issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission and effective today, which does not permit the placing of open top cars or hoppers on sidings for operators unless they can be loaded within 24 hours. This, according to Saward's Journal, New York, will force many out of the market, as "many wagon loading mines cannot load a large hopper in one day, and in the future they will have to rely on box cars." The order of the commission is as follows:

"Upon any day when any such common carrier by railroad is unable to supply mines upon its time with the required number of open top cars, such cars shall not be furnished or supplied by it to any mine which customarily does not load or is unable to load such cars with coal within 24 hours from and after the time of placement until all mines upon the line of any such carriers have been fully supplied with such cars."

Several local operators agree that local consumers should benefit by this order, as several of take "wagon loaders" are sure to enter the local house coal market. At the present time house coal mines are asking all sorts of prices ranging from $2.75 to $4 per ton at the mine, with delivery at from $4 to $5.75, depending upon the dealer and the place of delivery. Pool 11 coal sold in the Johnstown market last week as low as $3 per ton, f. o. b. cars. Very slight improvement was noted in the car supply and many of the larger mines in the county are only working one, two or three days a week.

WORK ON REMOVAL OF MOOSE HOME TO BEGIN THIS WEEK

James F. McGee, the Punxsutawney contractor who specializes in moving buildings and who has the contract for the removal of the present home of the L. O. O. M. to the rear of their lot on East Market street to make room for their proposed new building which is to house the Clearfield postoffice for the coming ten years, expects to arrive in Clearfield with his equipment by the end of the week and will begin the work of removing the building by the first of next week.

The timbers, heavy blocks and hydraulic jacks to be used in this work were loaded on the cars at Brockwayville yesterday and the work will be begun immediately upon the arrival of this equipment in Clearfield.

Mr. McGee is an expert in his line and had charge of the work of moving the Zentmyer residence on Third street to make room for the Driggs Theatre several years ago.

The admonition of The Progress, "Better go early if you want a seat to hear the Choir," was very generally adhered to by Clearfielders to the number of at least twelve hundred who "were in their seats at the appointed hour while several hundred others are said to have been turned away for lack of seating room last evening when the wonderful Consistory Choir of Williamsport, Consistory Scottish Rite Masons appeared here in a concert.

Owing to the good recommendation given this musical organization by those who had been privileged to hear it in the solemn and impressive rites of the craft, the vast audience was keyed up to a high pitch of expectancy. When the strong voiced choirs swung into "The Messiah of Nations" there was a very general nod of approval and when the last note died away so thrilled were the hearers that a great silence enveloped the enchanted hearers. "To Thee, O Country" followed and with like effect. Part songs of a sentimental nature; three of them continued an entrancing effect but a last note solo by Mr. W. Clyde Hauer, exquisitely rendered evoked long and hearty applause as a tribute to his mastery of tone.

The singing of the anthem "Hark, Hark, My Soul" with solo by Mayor A. M. Hoagland and "Gloria from the Twelfth Mass" particularly the solo voice in the former and the strong deep throated volume of the latter brought a veritable storm of applause.

The fourth part of the program was the degree music, both selections meeting with great favor, the first

WEST SIDE PEOPLE DISCUSS PROGRAM OF WINTER EVENTS

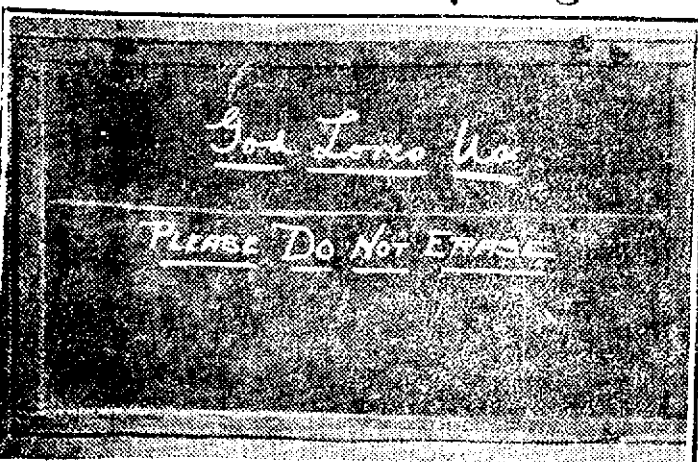

The West Side Community Service committee met at the Textile Recreation building on Monday evening to discuss the general winter program for the town as a whole with its particular local application. The most important action taken was that the chairman, Mr. Roy Boyce, should appoint a committee on neighborhood community nights. This committee is to plan time, place and program for three periodic West Side gatherings to extend into the winter.

The East End Community Service committee will meet at the Hose House Thursday evening, Oct. 26, at 7:30 for the same purpose. If these meetings are promptly attended with some previous thought on the matters in hand, real results for Community Service will be attained without undue expenditure of time or effort on the part of anyone.

Lloyd George Declares Debt To America Must Be Paid To Last Cent

London, Oct. 25.—"Great Britain must pay all her debts to America. It is imperative that America and Great Britain work together." Rev. Hall's Last Message

This message "God Loves Us," written on a church blackboard in Rev. The blackboard still hangs in the church. Singularly, he had added to his message the warning: "Do Not Forget."

road goes straight from along the creek to the Northwood hillside. At Vail, the new bridge removes two bad turns, and the old steel bridge may now be removed. The new road goes in the rear of the few houses at Vail station. The contractors, Herrmann and Gass, have done an excellent piece of work, which is a pride to them, to Tyrone and to all Pennsylvania. It was constructed with infinite care by the contractor working in conjunction with the inspectors of the highway department.

"In riding over it, the road is as smooth as a billiard table. The joints expansion are not noticeable. There is an absence of that apparent wave which is evident on many roads due to the slight rise at expansion joints. But this road out from Northwood to Vail impresses one as being the finest and smoothest concrete highway that one has ever enjoyed riding upon. It is certain that the portion beyond Vail will be just as superb a piece of road although it is not yet open to traffic."

special arrangement of "Onward, Christian Soldiers" for quartette was thoroughly enjoyed.

We would not detract one whit from the solo work of Messrs. Harver, Hoagland and the gentlemen who sang "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Loch Lomond" and "Barfoot Boy," but the prime favorite of the evening was Mr. William E. Parsons, who made his debut as a soloist by singing "Davey Jones Locker" and thereafter could not satisfy the demand for his base solo performance. The Old Favorites were indeed "old favorites in such capable voices."

A great swelling chorus in "Viking's Song" followed by "My Country 'Tis of Thee" ended a "A Perfect Day" and the people of Clearfield are indeed indebted to these gentlemen who came here, sacrificing their business and home life, in order to entertain us. All the travelling expenses were defrayed by local members of the Williamsport Consistory, who can justly be assured that their contribution to our musical appetite is greatly appreciated.

A very pretty touch was added to the concert in the announcement of the numbers by cards carried to the rostrum by petite little Jeanne Rosser who wore a fairy-like Halloween costume of checkered crepe paper. The little lady made a great hit with both the choir and the audience.

After the hundreds of invited guests had been so grandly entertained at the church, the Masons and their ladies repaired to the Masonic hall in the Keystone building, where a very pleasant social affair was staged. The various committees of Consistory men with the aid of the Junior Women's Club who served the excellent lunch, and the McKinley Orchestra which gave the music for dancing, deserve unbounded credit for the royal entertainment given the five hundred who crowded into the spacious quarters.

The visitors entered into the fine spirit of the occasion by giving most freely from their repertoire of songs, stunts and dialogue and the members of the craft were indeed sorry to see such a royal bunch of good fellows leave.

Kaiser Says He Will Wed, Despite Objections of Kin

By GUS M. OHEM
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Berlin, (By Mail to United Press)

The ex-kaiser declares to all visitors and delegations that he will marry Princess Schoenaich Carolath, aged 35, Nov. 4, regardless of public opinion.

The delegation representing the Kaiser's princely sons residing in Germany returned from Doorn with little to cheer their senders except an agreement which secures the financial rights of the Hohenzollern family.

The delegation, which attempted to dissuade the ex-kaiser from his marriage plans, met with firm refusal. The former emperor told his visitors that the marriage would be performed on the morning of Sunday, November 5, by a parson who comes to his castle every Sunday to conduct the religious services.

The marriage will not be a spectacular affair, only a small group of relatives and closest friends having been invited. The Crown Prince will attend and Prince Eitel Fritz has been selected to represent the princes living in Germany.

The Kaiser has been taking a boyish interest in the proceedings connected with the preparation of his wedding day. He has sent out 200 wedding announcements addressed in his own hand with the Hohenzollern arms embossed upon them.

Princess von Schoenaich Carolath, prospective bride, is the daughter of one of the Hohenzollern's most bitter enemies.

Prince Heinrich XII von Greiz, father of the young widow who will soon assume the duties of making the final days of the Kaiser happy, was an active participant in the Austrian Prussian war in 1866. When peace was declared, Heinrich refused to sign the treaty and until his death refused to make friendly arrangements with any of the Hohenzollern family. He was especially bitter against the then Kaiser, the grandfather of the present ex-Kaiser, and refused to observe the custom of blessing his buildings in Greiz on the Kaiser's birthday.

The present princess Carolath, apparently has forgotten the old feud between her ancestral family and the Hohenzollerns. She declared recently that she was marrying the former emperor for love—with no other motives in mind.

Discouraging.
"Love at first sight sure ain't delect," said Charcoal Eph, moodily. "I'm a man took a second look, sure, but it would be all off wid housekeeping!"

HOW THEY USED TO DO IT

We are indebted to Clement W. Smith for the following old time political circular, which he recently unearthed among some old papers of his father, the late Josiah W. Smith. We give it space in order to show how the old timers played the game back in the days of "Old Tippecanoe" and Tyler, Too." Note how they "swapped" returns:

The undersigned, in pursuance of one of the objects of their appointment as Executive Committee of the City and County of Philadelphia, are desirous to procure accurate political information in regard to this state—ac we will therefore thank you to inform us—

1st. What is the relative strength of parties in your county, or what do you expect it to be this Fall?

2d. Have there been changes in the Federal Locofocos to the Democratic or Whig party? and if so, to what extent, in your county?

3. We are aware that there will be a considerable difference between our vote in this State at the State election, and at the Presidential election in October; please to inform us what will be the probable difference, if any, in your county.

4th. What means have you adopted to disseminate political information among the people—what documents, speeches, &c have you circulated and what others do you regard as best?

5th. Is your county thoroughly organized so that the whole Whig vote will be brought out, and every voter supplied with an Electoral ticket?

To each of these interrogatories we respectfully request explicit replies, desiring you to give us rather an under than over estimate of our

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that application has been made to The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, under the provisions of the Public Service Law, by Lumber City Public Service Company and Penn Public Service Corporation for a certificate of Public Convenience evidencing the Commission's requisite approval of the sale by Lumber City Public Service Company of all its property, real, personal and mixed, including all franchises, contracts, rights of way and agreements, together with all the rights and privileges of Lumber City Public Service Company thereunder and the purchase of the same by Penn Public Service Corporation.

A public hearing upon this application will be held in the Commission Building, 112 Market Street, Harrisburg, Pa., on the 2nd day of November, 1922, at 9:30 o'clock A. M., when and where all persons in interest may appear and be heard if they so desire.

strength. We deem it highly important that our whole vote should be cast in the election for members of Congress, as, independently of the importance of securing as large a representation in Congress as possible, the vote then given, will be taken as the index of the strength of General Harrison in this state. Should we be able to reduce their former majorities, to any considerable extent, as we are confident we shall, Pennsylvania will be set down as a Harrison state, and the victory will be at once yielded to us.

It is the intention of this Committee to furnish you with the substance of the information they shall have obtained, as soon as they hear from a majority of the counties. In the meantime, they ask the favor of you to communicate, at all times, whatever you may deem important, and especially, to furnish them, by mail or otherwise, with the earliest possible returns of both the State and Presidential elections in your county, and in return they will forward slips to you containing such returns as they shall have obtained from this and other states.

We cannot conclude without tendering you our hearty congratulations on the cheering prospects now before us, on the overwhelming majorities given by the Democratic Whigs of Kentucky, Indiana and North Carolina and on our unlooked for vote in Alabama and Missouri. The latter States, as well as Georgia and Tennessee, heretofore given to the Federal Locofocos, are now considered certain at the next trial, in November, for Harrison; indeed, Tennessee is given up by them as hopeless.

Their game is now one of brag; let not their assumed confidence, however, discourage our friends; we have every possible reason to be confident, but every inducement, also not to relax our exertions; on the contrary, let our rallying cry be "HARRISON AND REFORM."

OUR

CURWENSVILLE

The Grand Bros have opened a new branch in combination with their main store. Two new pool tables have been placed in the west room of their building.

J. L. Curtin has been in town for several days and is packing up his household goods, preparatory to moving his family to Colver, Indian county, where he is employed.

"What has become of the organization of Curwensville's Boy Scout?" was a query propounded to the writer yesterday. We are unable to answer intelligently as we have not heard of any meetings held by them for a long period. We do not think that they held camp this year. It is to be hoped that the Boy Scouts have not flunked out entirely. We are open for correction at any time.

Levi Williams and family of Clearfield spent Sunday in Curwensville.

The friends of Miss Margaret Straton in this place will be sorry to know that she is at present in a Philadelphia hospital suffering from a case of pneumonia.

The ladies of the M. E. church passed several pleasant hours this afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Wolf. Tea and other delicacies were served as a luncheon.

The Curwensville scribe was in error in the statement relative to the Mothers' Meeting being held on Wednesday. The time should have read Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock and at the home of Mrs. P. E. Smith, Susquehanna avenue, South Side. We stand corrected.

According to the Curwensville

sport writer to Altoona Union the home team seems to have but two star players, Norris and Bennett. The rest of the team are just "fill-ins."

Ivan Leech who was afflicted by a partial paralysis a few weeks ago at his home in Warren, O., has so far recovered as to reach Curwensville for a visit with relatives.

That little item in Curwensville letter several days ago relative to the conspicuous use of cigarettes by boys of tender years, had its use and force. Prof. Norris assisted by his able corps of instructors, has started a campaign to break up the practice among those attending the schools. Now let the local officers lend all assistance in their power and good work will be accomplished.

Chestnuts are a poor crop this year and scarcely any have been offered for sale in Curwensville market. A few nuts that have been given for the greater part of the year. A large percentage of chestnuts in this section of the county all red from a blight which not only destroyed the fruit but killed the tree itself.

The "boozie" case heard before Judge Dale on Monday evening is not squashed as many suppose. The hearing was only a preliminary one, and the actual hearing of evidence will be held just as soon as the "stuff" found on the premises is analyzed and the amount of alcohol contained therein is determined.

Street Commissioner Dale has completed work on State highway from Horbach to old Susquehanna house, except filling and cementing cracks and broken places. The work did not cost the borough a thousand plunks either, as the State highway charged for about the same work several years ago.

A number of Curwensville Men went to Clearfield last evening and attended a banquet and meeting of that fraternity.

The finance committee is making progress in their part of the work for holding that big 4th of November celebration in Curwensville this year. Reports received from towns within eight miles indicate that the largest number of people will be here that has ever been recorded in the town's history of celebrations.

SIMPSON COAL COMPANY MOVES OFFICES

The Simpson Coal Company of Rochester, New York, one of the oldest and best known coal brokerages in Northern New York, which opened a branch office in Clearfield last January, has moved its offices from the Penn Public Service Building on Third street to commodious offices in the new Littman Building at No. 20 North Second street.

The local branch of the Simpson Coal Company is under the management of Isaac H. Robinson who is thoroughly posted in the coal business, his intimate knowledge of the entire field being of decided advantage to him in his business dealings. Under Mr. Robinson's able management the Simpson company has come to the front as one of the largest purchasers of coal in this section and are planning to greatly extend their business in this field.

The Robinson Coal Company and I. H. Robinson also have their office in the Littman Building with the

JUDGE MOSCHISLER MAY SIT ON U. S. BENCH

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—Robert Von Moschisler of Philadelphia, Chief Justice of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, was today recommended to President Harding by Governor Spruill to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Associate Justice Day of the U. HUNTERS' LICENSES ISSUED TO DATE IS UP TO 6,000 TOTAL

Clearfield county hunters or at least that of them do not believe in putting off until tomorrow what they could do today. Accordingly they have rushed Clearfield County Treasurer Rumbolt and his staff of clerks with a veritable deluge of hunter's license applications.

The total number of hunter's licenses sold in Clearfield county thus far in 1922 will reach the 6,000 mark today.

The hunting season for small game opens one week from today and the license application is coming in by every mail to the extent of from three to four hundred per day, the indications being that the grand total for the year will be several hundred greater than 1921 when approximately 11,000 hunters were licensed in Clearfield county.

DOES IT PAY TO ADVERTISE? ASK CHARLEY HALFORD

Charles Halford now knows that it pays to advertise in The Progress. The ad. for the sale of a stove, appeared on Monday and before the paper had been entirely circulated two inquiries were made as to the stove. The first caller purchased it, but that did not end Charley's troubles. All evening and all day Tuesday prospective purchasers invaded his home, sought him out at his blacksmith shop until he was forced to cry enough—or too much—and beat it up to this office to beg us for the sake of his peace of mind, to "please yank that ad out."

We did so, but last night after supper the inquiries continued to pour in, no less than three applications for Halford's stove being made to this office last evening.

The moral of this tale is, if you have anything to sell, slip an ad in The Progress; we'll do the rest.

TYRONE HIGHWAY TO REQUIRE YEAR TO BE COMPLETED

Sandy Ridge To Bald Eagle Section Must Be Left Till Next Season; Labor Shortage Felt.

TYRONE END DONE

The State road over the mountain from Sandy Ridge to Tyrone, one of the best links in the Lakes-to-the-Sea highway, which the Sprout administration tried so hard to complete during the past four years, will have to go over for another year, and by that time the road will not be entirely completed between the two points before next season. The piece remaining uncompleted is that section extending from Sandy Ridge to Bald Eagle. Clark Brothers Construction Company has the contract for this piece of road which will require several months of next year to complete.

From Bald Eagle to Vail, the contracting is going on apace and will be completed in about two weeks. At Vail, work is being finished upon the magnificent three-span concrete bridge which is built on a skew. The crossing across the Bald Eagle branch will not be completed this year.

As is known, there is a determined campaign to eliminate this grade crossing by an overhead bridge, which matter is now in the hands of the Public Service Commission. However, the two sections of concrete—on both sides of Vail will be joined by a well graded piece of road and then when a final decision is made as to the railroad crossing, they will be joined by concrete, but this will be a separate contract.

In all probability the decision will be for an overhead bridge. Surely the national campaign to eliminate the grade crossing should receive an actual impetus at Vail, by the construction of an overhead bridge.

The Hernan & Gass Company, of Latrobe, is working on the valley section of the road. These contractors have the link between Vail and Northwood, Tyrone, completed with the exception of a few hundred yards at the Vail end. As far as completed, the road is open to traffic.

At Tyrone the southern termination of the Lakes-to-the-Sea highway merges with the William Penn highway, and then on to the east. The Tyrone Herald, in referring to the link from Northwood to Vail says:

"A trip out through Northwood and on to Vail over the new road is a revelation. One cannot help but respect back over the years, when for about two-thirds of every year that road was one of the worst about Tyrone. It was winding and crooked and the black loam made a dark sticky mud that was an abomination. But now the revelation—it seems like a dream. White concrete stretches away; the curves so graceful they are not noted while riding in a car; a better level has been established. Several violent turns have been eliminated.

"The right handed turn at the old Blair farm is now of the past, as the

ARGUES TO QUASH INDICTMENT OF H. M. KEPHART

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 25.—The first round of the legal test of the Commonwealth's case against former State Treasurer Herman W. Kephart, under indictment for misappropriation of money, was fought out today when counsel for Mr. Kephart argued for a motion to quash the indictment. Wm. A. Glasgow, counsel for Kephart, argued that the indictment, if any, was subject to impeachment proceedings and not criminal prosecution. Deputy Attorney General H. H. Applegate to represent Mr. Kephart and vigorously opposed quashing the indictment.

The questions at law in this case will provide material for one of the greatest legal battles in the history of the State. The state's action rests on the common law and must be based on old English law in force prior to colonial times. Attorney Glasgow in his argument cited the Warren Building case in English courts and also the proceedings against William Penn drawing parallels to the Kephart case supporting his contention that impeachment was the only course open to the state under our laws.

REV. HALL AND MRS. MILLS WAS CONSTANTLY WERE SPIED UPON

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 25.—Rev. Edwin Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were constantly being spied upon for a long time prior to the day of the murder according to new evidence unearthed by the state authorities.

Mrs. Millie Galt, whose telephone was frequently used by Mrs. Mills to call the Rev. Hall, said the couple were so afraid that they would be made that they had arranged a set of signals by which the calls were identified before conversation ensued. Mrs. Galt told how Mrs. Mills, before starting a conversation would whistle a few bars of the tune "Just like a Tyne" which, judging from the house of this before, saying "hello", was answered by some prearranged signal or code.

Mrs. Galt also said that Mrs. Mills had been very despondent and depressed at one time, much after the style of "I cannot find a way out" and

HARRISBURG CLERK KILLS LANDLADY THEN SHOTS SELF

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 25.—Samuel H. Hinkle, a young railroad clerk, shot and killed his landlady here last night during the absence of her husband. The victim, Mrs. Mary Wagner, is known to have been instantly killed by a pistol shot. Her body was discovered by her husband when he returned home this morning. Hinkle had been under him off in his room and shot him off in his room in a sudden condition is still living. In his room was found a six-powdered shotgun, a knife and a bottle of chloroform in addition to the murder gun.

Ousted Divine, Defending, Tells Of His Belief

Omaha, Oct. 25. (U. P.)—Rev. J. D. M. Buckner of Aurora, Nebraska, retired as a minister of the Methodist church last September for alleged "heresy," as the recommendation of Bishop Homer C. Stuntz of Omaha, bishop of the diocese, fired the opening gun in his fight for reinstatement today when his book, "How I Lost My Job as a Preacher," came off the press.

The ousting of Buckner came as a result of an article published under his name in the Omaha World-Herald last spring entitled, "A Good God," in which Rev. Buckner branded many portions of the Bible as directly contradictory to the accepted Christian belief that God is good.

"We all believe that God is good," said some of the things the Old Testament ascribes to him are pretty bad, and if performed by a citizen of Aurora, we would be horrified," Rev. Buckner declared. "I am compelled to believe either that God was once bad or that the record as written in the Bible is wrong."

"For instance, I do not believe that all the Bible is equally inspired, but that inspiration is measured by the intelligence as well as the faith and love of the writer."

"I do not believe that God told the Hebrews to kill the Canaanites, men, women and innocent children, and to confiscate their property."

"I do not believe that God told David to murder Israel and that when he did it God became angry with David and sent a plague and killed 70,000 unoffending men."

"I do not believe that because a few curious men peeked into the ark, God became angry and killed 30,000 innocent men."

"I do not believe that God caused two she-bears to devour forty-two playful children because they shouted 'Bail Hail!' at Elisha."

"I do not believe as the 'old school' Christians believe, that salvation is secured by believing certain things and performing certain ceremonies; I believe salvation is progressive and takes place in the heart of man."

Letter of Denunciation.

These statements called forth a letter of denunciation from Bishop Stuntz, who declared himself "both amazed and shocked" at "such an unprovoked and unwarranted declaration of disbelief in the word of God," which he said had brought "unfavorable publicity" to the Methodist church.

Buckner's pressure was brought to bear upon him to retire as a minister voluntarily, to avoid the unpleasant publicity of a trial for heresy, but that he refused to do so and demanded trial. This was denied him and at a subsequent meeting of the conference, Buckner was quietly retired.

Resolutions denouncing the action of the conference at Omaha, passed by the official board of the Methodist church at Aurora, in which Buckner had preached for eleven of his 40 years as a Methodist clergyman, had no avail. Many members of the church urged the official board to hire Rev. Buckner in spite of the action of the conference, while others, including some of the heaviest contributors, say they are "through with the church. Since the entire membership is united in refusing to accept another minister sent out by the Methodist conference to take Rev. Buckner's place, it is probable that the congregation will dissolve."

Buckner has been deluged with letters of encouragement and sympathy from church people, educators and ministers of many faiths, among whom a number declared they also "have doubts—but don't preach them."

A split between the preachers of the "old school" and the "new school" of Christianity threatens in Nebraska, as a result of the publicity given these letters, which will be heightened by the charges made by Rev. Buckner in his book.

Mrs. E. J. Turner and Mrs. Abe Richards spent Tuesday in Phillipsburg.

M. F. Hoffman's funeral will be held from his home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 p. m.

EVANS RESIGNS AS POSTMASTER OF DUBOIS CITY

Find Private Business Pressing On His Time and Quits So that Public May Be Served.

HAD GOOD RECORD

Dubois, Oct. 25.—W. T. Evans, postmaster of Dubois, has sent his resignation into First Assistant Postmaster General Bartlett, Washington, D. C., the resignation to become effective November 15th.

The announcement of this act on the part of Mr. Evans will come as a distinct surprise to the citizens of Dubois, as no intimation of it has been given to the public.

In taking this step Mr. Evans holds the belief that he is doing the square thing by the public and also by himself. Mr. Evans has extensive interests, aside from the position of postmaster, and he finds that he cannot do justice to the duties of the federal position and at the same time do justice to his own interests.

He has, therefore, sent in his resignation to the post-office department and will, following the appointment of a temporary successor, devote all of his time and attention to his private affairs.

Mr. Evans has been the postmaster in Dubois since last spring, succeeding Con Allen, whose term had expired, and at once took personal supervision of the manifold duties of the office. There was never any question of Mr. Evans' capability and he did what everyone believed he would do—took up the duties of postmaster in a competent manner and at once went to work to give the public the best service possible at all times. He succeeded most admirably in every respect, and it is with regret that the public will learn of his resignation. Mr. Evans himself quite modestly, as he states that he likes the work and finds it of a most congenial nature.

Many Women Seeking High Office In '22

Washington, Oct. 25. (United Press.)—More women are seeking political office this year than ever before in the history of the country, according to information compiled by women's organizations here.

Twelve of the "fairer sex" successfully weathered the primaries and are seeking to defeat men for seats in the Senate, the House, or State governorship. Scores of others have stirred up warm political battles for men seeking minor offices.

The first woman to reach the Senate is Mrs. Felton, the grand old lady of Georgia, recently appointed to succeed the late Senator Tom Watson, until someone is elected next month to fill out his term.

Four women are running for the honor which Mrs. Felton received, while seven are seeking House seats and one wants to be a governor.

The hopes of the women for Senatorial seats rest largely with Mrs. Peter Olson of Minnesota and Mrs. Ben Hooper of Wisconsin, the only women to receive Senatorial nominations of one of the major political parties. Both are Democrats.

Senator La Follette's unusual strength in his State, as revealed in the primary, will make it extremely difficult for Mrs. Hooper to win, but Mrs. Olson is understood to be giving Senator Kellogg a race in Minnesota that is "worthy of any man."

The Republicans have two women seeking election to the House, while the Democrats have three, and the Prohibitionists and the Socialists one each.

WAGON LOADERS TO BE DEPRIVED OF CAR SUPPLY

Beginning Monday last, "wagon-loading" coal operators are expected to have difficulty in disposing of their product except to home consumers, owing to an order issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission and effective today, which does not permit the placing of open top cars or hoppers on sidings for operators unless they can be loaded within 24 hours. This, according to Saward's Journal, New York, will force many out of the market, as "many wagon loading mines cannot load a large hopper in one day, and in the future they will have to rely on box cars." The order of the commission is as follows:

"Upon any day when any such common carrier by railroad is unable to supply mines upon its line with the required number of open top cars, such cars shall not be furnished or supplied by it to any mine which customarily does not load or is unable to load such cars with coal within 24 hours from and after the time of placement until all mines upon the line of any such carriers have been fully supplied with such cars."

Several local operators agree that this order, as several of take, "wagon loaders" are sure to enter the local house coal market. At the present time house coal mines are asking all sorts of prices ranging from $2.75 to $4 per ton at the mine, with delivery at from $4 to $5.75, depending upon the dealer and the place of delivery. Pool 11 coal sold in the Johnstown market last week as low as $3 per ton, f. o. b. cars. Very slight improvement was noted in the car supply and many of the larger mines in the county are only working one, two or three days a week.

WORK ON REMOVAL OF MOOSE HOME TO BEGIN THIS WEEK

James F. McGee, the Punxsutawney contractor who specializes in moving buildings and who has the contract for the removal of the present home of the L. O. O. M. to the rear of their lot on East Market street to make room for their proposed new building which is to house the Clearfield postoffice for the coming ten years, expects to arrive in Clearfield with his equipment by the end of the week and will begin the work of removing the building by the first of next week.

The timbers, heavy blocks and hydraulic jacks to be used in this work were loaded on the cars at Brockwayville yesterday and the work will be begun immediately upon the arrival of this equipment in Clearfield.

Mr. McGee is an expert in his line and had charge of the work of moving the Zentmyer residence on Third street to make room for the Driggs Theatre several years ago.

The admonition of The Progress, "Better go early if you want a seat to hear the Choir," was very generally adhered to by Clearfielders to the number of at least twelve hundred who "were in their seats at the appointed hour while several hundred others are said to have been turned away for lack of seating room last evening when the wonderful Consistory Choir of Williamsport, Consistory Scottish Rite Masons appeared here in a concert.

Owing to the good recommendation given this musical organization by those who had been privileged to hear it in the solemn and impressive rites of the craft, the vast audience was keyed up to a high pitch of expectancy. When the strong voiced choirs swung into "The Messiah of Nations" there was a very general nod of approval and when the last note died away so thrilled were the hearers that a great silence enveloped the enchanted hearers. "To Thee, O Country" followed and with like effect. Part songs of a sentimental nature; three of them continued an entrancing effect but a last note solo by Mr. W. Clyde Hauer, exquisitely rendered evoked long and hearty applause as a tribute to his mastery of tone.

The singing of the anthem "Hark, Hark, My Soul" with solo by Mayor A. M. Hoagland and "Gloria from the Twelfth Mass" particularly the solo voice in the former and the strong deep throated volume of the latter brought a veritable storm of applause.

WEST SIDE PEOPLE DISCUSS PROGRAM OF WINTER EVENTS

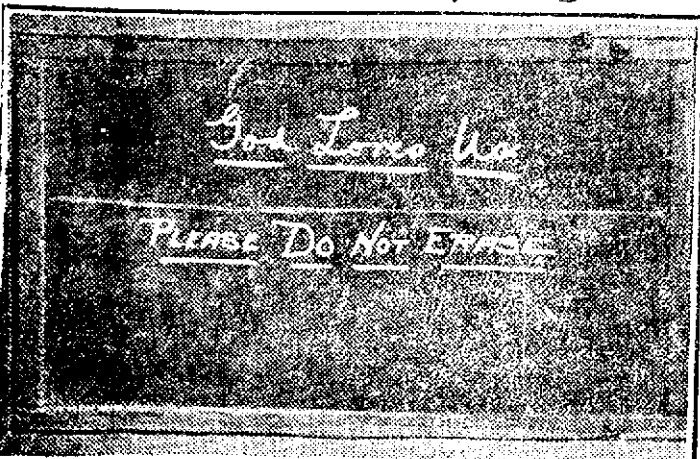

The West Side Community Service committee met at the Textile Recreation building on Monday evening to discuss the general winter program for the town as a whole with its particular local application. The most important action taken was that the chairman, Mr. Roy Boyce, should appoint a committee on neighborhood community nights. This committee is to plan time, place and program for three periodic West Side gatherings to extend into the winter.

The East End Community Service committee will meet at the Hose House Thursday evening, Oct. 6, at 7:30 for the same purpose. If these meetings are promptly attended with some previous thought on the matters in hand, real results for Community Service will be attained without undue expenditure of time or effort on the part of anyone.

Lloyd George Declares Debt To America Must Be Paid To Last Cent

London, Oct. 25.—"Great Britain must pay all her debts to America. It is imperative that America and Great Britain work together." These were the words of David Lloyd George in the first real stump speech of his "comeback" efforts made last evening before a huge audience in the hall of the hotel where he was long and vociferously acclaimed.

This message "God Loves Us," written on a church blackboard in Rev. road goes straight from along the creek to the Northwood hillside. At Vail, the new bridge removes two bad turns, and the old steel bridge may now be removed. The new road goes in the rear of the few houses at Vail station. The contractors, Herrmann and Gass, have done an excellent piece of work, which is a pride to them, to Tyrone and to all Pennsylvania. It was constructed with infinite care by the contractor working in conjunction with the inspectors of the highway department.

"In riding over it, the road is as smooth as a billiard table. The joints expansion are not noticeable. There is an absence of that apparent wave which is evident on many roads due to the slight rise at expansion joints. But this road out from Northwood to Vail impresses one as being the finest and smoothest concrete highway that one has ever enjoyed riding upon. It is certain that the portion beyond Vail will be just as superb a piece of road although it is not yet open to traffic."

Kaiser Says He Will Wed, Despite Objections of Kin

By GUS M. OHEM
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin. (By Mail to United Press) —The ex-kaiser declares to all visitors and delegations that he will marry Princess Schoenaich Carolath, aged 35, Nov. 4, regardless of public opinion.

The delegation representing the Kaiser's princely sons residing in Germany returned from Doorn with little to cheer their senders except an agreement which secures the financial rights of the Hohenzollern family.

The delegation, which attempted to dissuade the ex-kaiser from his marriage plans, met with firm refusal. The former emperor told his visitors that the marriage would be performed on the morning of Sunday, November 5, by a parson who comes to his castle every Sunday to conduct the religious services.

The marriage will not be a spectacular affair, only a small group of relatives and closest friends having been invited. The Crown Prince will attend and Prince Eitel Fritz has been selected to represent the princes living in Germany.

The Kaiser has been taking a boyish interest in the proceedings connected with the preparation of his wedding day. He has sent out 200 wedding announcements addressed in his own hand with the Hohenzollern arms embossed upon them.

Princess von Schoenaich Carolath, prospective bride, is the daughter of one of the Hohenzollern's most bitter enemies.

Prince Heinrich XII von Greiz, father of the young widow who will soon assume the duties of making the final days of the Kaiser happy, was an active participant in the Austrian Prussian war in 1866. When peace was declared, Heinrich refused to sign the treaty and until his death refused to make friendly arrangements with any of the Hohenzollern family. He was especially bitter against the then Kaiser, the grandfather of the present ex-kaiser, and refused to observe the custom of blessing his buildings in Greiz on the Kaiser's birthday.

The present princess Carolath, apparently has forgotten the old feud between her ancestral family and the Hohenzollerns. She declared recently that she was marrying the former emperor for love—with no other motives in mind.

A very pretty touch was added to the concert in the announcement of the numbers by cards carried to the rostrum by petite little Jeanne Rosser who wore a fairy-like Halloween costume of checkered crepe paper. The little lady made a great hit with both the choir and the audience.

After the hundreds of invited guests had been so grandly entertained at the church, the Masons and their ladies repaired to the Masonic hall in the Keystone building, where a very pleasant social affair was staged. The various committees of Consistory men with the aid of the Junior Women's Club who served the excellent lunch, and the McKinley Orchestra which gave the music for dancing, deserve unbounded credit for the royal entertainment given the five hundred who crowded into the spacious quarters.

The visitors entered into the fine spirit of the occasion by giving most freely from their repertoire of songs, stunts and dialogue and the members of the craft were indeed sorry to see such a royal bunch of good fellows leave.

How's Your Stomach?

If You Have Indigestion, Gas, Sour Stomach, take this Advice
Bedford, Pa.—"I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and consider it the best medicine I have ever used for stomach trouble. I suffered with my stomach for a long time—it was gastric stomach trouble. My food did not digest, it would sour and ferment, causing gas to form, and I would be greatly distressed. I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and it gave the greatest relief in the world. I could eat and my food would digest better and I never have had any more distress. To anyone who suffers with stomach trouble I would advise the use of Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery." S. I. McVicker, 243 W. Pitt St.

Correct your stomach—and improve your blood with this "Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's and strength and vigorous vitality will follow. Write Dr. Pierce, Pres. Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice or send 10c for trial pkg. tablets.

What's become of our old friend Mr. Fit?

Years back the old clothing singsong was "it fits you like the paper on the wall."

In the glamour for business lately it's changed to "we're selling at lower prices than any other store in the paper."

When we get a Coat on a man it pretty near sells itself. Fabrics are wonderful, colors are select.

Yes—we are low in price and we talk about it a lot—but we'll bet a new golf ball that you can beat us all hollow on price right in this issue of the paper—if you don't care what you say about the "quality and drape."

HOW THEY USED TO DO IT

We are indebted to Clement W. Smith for the following old time political circular, which he recently unearthed among some old papers of his father, the late Josiah W. Smith. strength.
We deem it highly important that our whole vote should be cast in the election for members of Congress, as, independently of the importance of securing as large a representation in Congress as possible, the vote then given, will be taken as the index of the strength of General Harrison in this state. Should we be able to reduce their former majorities, to any considerable extent, as we are confident we shall, Pennsylvania will be set down as a Harrison state, and the victory will be at once yielded to us.

It is the intention of this Committee to furnish you with the substance of the information they shall have obtained, as soon as they hear from a majority of the counties. In the meantime, they ask the favor of you to communicate, at all times, whatever you may deem important, and especially, to furnish them, by mail or otherwise, with the earliest possible returns of both the State and Presidential elections in your county, and in return they will forward slips to you containing such returns as they shall have obtained from this and other states.

We cannot conclude without tendering you our hearty congratulations on the cheering prospects now before us, on the overwhelming majorities given by the Democratic Whigs of Kentucky, Indiana and North Carolina and on our unlooked for vote in Alabama and Missouri. The latter States, as well as Georgia and Tennessee, heretofore given to the Federal Locofocos, are now considered certain at the next trial, in November, for Harrison; indeed, Tennessee is given up by them as hopeless.

Their game is now one of brag; let not their assumed confidence, however, discourage our friends; we have every possible reason to be confident, but every inducement, also not to relax our exertions; on the contrary, let our rallying cry be "HARRISON AND REFORM."

It was indeed a happy thought that resulted in the bringing of such a premier musical organization as the Consistory Choir to Clearfield. The wonderful beauties of Masonry and the organizations emanating and having their fountain head in that craft are rarely brought into the public eye, it being a cardinal rule that their work be done unostentatiously and without pretention. For this reason the extent of its membership, the scope of its benefactions, the breadth of its teachings, the beauties of its precepts and the ability of its kindred musical organizations and its great works of charity are little known to the uninitiated.

The visit of the Consistory Choir here gives a glimpse of the high order of its membership selected from all walks of life and of the great enjoyments that come from affiliation. An intimate view was afforded in the rendition of the degree music, which was of an inspiring and ennobling character.

The choir itself has no Masonic significance but the work of the choir growing out of the fellowship of the craft and the injunction to build well is indeed a monument to the efforts of its supporters, who number hundreds in this locality, on which Clearfield music lovers today hang a wreath of earnest gratitude.

"Is it not a fact that your nomination for Governor met with bitter opposition from leaders of your party for the reason that you were regarded as a socialist, with extremely radical notions?"

"Is it not a fact that your stand on various subjects as expressed in your reckless assertions on the stump has caused you to be rebuked by reputable Democratic newspapers of the State?"

"Have you not, without the slightest facts to sustain your assertion, slandered certain high State officials in your speeches before farmers of the State?"

Writing in the Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger, Colonel George Nox McCain, the famous political writer, submits these interrogations as pertinent queries Gifford Pinchot might well be warranted in addressing to his opponent, John A. McSparran.

Characterizing McSparran as a "clever juggler" and a purveyor of "bunk," Colonel McCain, who followed McSparran on the stump, points out how McSparran misstates facts and engages in the wildest kind of "unadulterated bunk" as he addresses himself to voters of the State. Not only does Colonel McCain find McSparran evasive, untruthful, slanderous and destructive in his utterances, but lodging issues in complete antithesis to the direct, forceful manner of Pinchot. Here is what Colonel McCain says about McSparran's "puseypooling" on the "wet" and "dry" issue:

"Never have I heard McSparran make a reference to it. Possibly it wasn't his day for discussing the saloon."

"It is more than possible that the neglect was due to the stand McSparran has taken on this issue."

"But one expects a flatfooted statement on the 'dry' issue from a clergyman, even if he is a Democratic candidate for Governor."

"He sidesteps it. He has never come out fearlessly, as Pinchot has done, for the repeal of the Woner Act and the Brooks high license law."

"There is only one inference to be drawn. The Democratic candidate is trying to dodge the direct issue by carrying water on both shoulders."

"Bluntly put, he is currying favor with the 'wets' while trying to convince the 'drys' that he is one of them."

And then the Philadelphia North American clinches the hypocrisy of the Democratic candidate by pointing out how McSparran was called to the support of Governor Sprout in the last legislature to help put over the Woner bill.

Here again McSparran qualifies as "the dirt farmer who knows how to throw mud" by reason of the manner in which he has been going up and down the State denouncing everything and everybody connected with the Republican administration. He fails to say a word about the part he himself played in the passage of the Woner act.

"As a candidate for Governor," says the North American, "McSparran has studiously avoided all discussion of prohibition and enforcement questions."

Probably forgotten all this, just as he seems to have forgotten how he unqualifiedly endorsed Gifford Pinchot's conduct of the forestry department, and in a questionnaire conducted by the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters last spring said that, in the event of his election, he hoped to handle

VENERABLE DUBOIS MAN DIES

Died Oct. 21.—Death came to one of this city's most venerated citizens at 10:20 o'clock this morning when George Minns, Sr., father of Congressman George Minns, Jr., and a prominent resident of this city for nearly a half century, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Martha Case, of Junata Street, where he had been making his home for several months.

These troubles, which had caused him to be in bed for some time, were the result of his death.

George Minns, Sr., was born in England, December 4, 1845, being 76 the day his job as efficiently as Pinchot had handled the forestry job.

Things is McSparran revealed in all hypocrisy—something the people won't stand for in this "show, me" age.

And that's one big reason why Pennsylvania thousands, including thousands of Democrats, will unite in the election of the honest, straightforward, courageous Pike county forester.

PERSONAL SERVICE

The old time idea of a bank as a chilly place for all but the wealthy, is a thing of the past.

The modern bank is a place where the business of the modest depositor is welcomed; where the officers are easily accessible at all times.

The County National is a modern bank. The officers are always glad to meet the people and to give personal attention to their business.

NOTICE

We wish to announce the removal of our works and main office to our new plant at Spruce and Fourth Streets. With improved facilities at the new location we are better prepared to serve our trade than ever before. Your inquiries are solicited for machine and foundry work.

To accommodate larger stocks in our Warehouse Department we have moved it into the old plant buildings at Fourth and Pine. We are converting these into a modern supply house from which all of our mine and mill supply business will be handled. The purchasing agent's office will also be located at the Warehouse Department. All other business will be transacted at the new plant.

For the present our phone numbers are:

CLEARFIELD MACHINE SHOPS

OUR

CURWENSVILLE

The Grand Bros have opened a new branch in combination with their main store. Two new pool tables have been placed in the west room of their building.

J. L. Curtin has been in town for several days and is packing up his household goods, preparatory to moving his family to Colver, Indian county, where he is employed.

"What has become of the organization of Curwensville's Boy Scout?" was a query propounded to the writer yesterday. We are unable to answer intelligently as we have not heard of any meetings held by them for a long period. We do not think that they held camp this year. It is to be hoped that the Boy Scouts have not flunked out entirely. We are open for correction at any time.

Levi Williams and family of Clearfield spent Sunday in Curwensville.

The friends of Miss Margaret Straton in this place will be sorry to know that she is at present in a Philadelphia hospital suffering from a case of pneumonia.

The ladies of the M. E. church passed several pleasant hours this afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Wolf. Tea and other delicacies were served as a luncheon.

The Curwensville scribe was in error in the statement relative to the Mothers' Meeting being held on Wednesday. The time should have read Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock and at the home of Mrs. P. E. Smith, Susquehanna avenue, South Side. We stand corrected.

According to the Curwensville

sport writer to Altoona Union the home team seems to have but two star players, Norris and Bennett. The rest of the team are just "fill-ins."

Ivan Leech who was afflicted by a partial paralysis a few weeks ago at his home in Warren, O., has so far recovered as to reach Curwensville for a visit with relatives.

That little item in Curwensville letter several days ago relative to the conspicuous use of cigarettes by boys of tender years, had its use and force. Prof. Norris assisted by his able corps of instructors, has started a campaign to break up the practice among those attending the schools. Now let the local officers lend all assistance in their power and good work will be accomplished.

Chestnuts are a poor crop this year and scarcely any have been offered for sale in Curwensville market. A few nuts that have been given for the greater part of the year. A large percentage of chestnuts in this section of the county all red from a blight which not only destroyed the fruit but killed the tree itself.

The "boozie" case heard before Judge Dale on Monday evening is not squashed as many suppose. The hearing was only a preliminary one, and the actual hearing of evidence will be held just as soon as the "stuff" found on the premises is analyzed and the amount of alcohol contained therein is determined.

Street Commissioner Dale has completed work on State highway from Hockback to old Susquehanna house, except filling and cementing cracks and broken places. The work did not cost the borough a thousand plunks either, as the State highway charged for about the same work several years ago.

A number of Curwensville Men went to Clearfield last evening and attended a banquet and meeting of that fraternity.

The finance committee is making progress in their part of the work for holding that big 4th flower celebration in Curwensville this year. Reports received from towns within eight miles indicate that the largest number of people will be here that has ever been recorded in the town's history of celebrations.

SIMPSON COAL COMPANY MOVES OFFICES

The Simpson Coal Company of Rochester, New York, one of the oldest and best known coal brokerages in Northern New York, which opened a branch office in Clearfield last January, has moved its offices from the Penn Public Service Building on Third street to commodious offices in the new Littman Building at No. 20 North Second street.

The local branch of the Simpson Coal Company is under the management of Isaac H. Robinson who is thoroughly posted in the coal business, his intimate knowledge of the entire field being of decided advantage to him in his business dealings. Under Mr. Robinson's able management the Simpson company has come to the front as one of the largest purchasers of coal in this section and are planning to greatly extend their business in this field.

The Robinson Coal Company and I. H. Robinson also have their office in the Littman Building with the

JUDGE MOSCHISLER MAY SIT ON U. S. BENCH

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—Robert Von Moschisler of Philadelphia, Chief Justice of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, was today recommended to President Harding by Governor Sprout to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Associate Justice Day of the U. S. Supreme Court. Judge Moschisler has been on the State bench for eleven years, in which time he was a judge in the Philadelphia county courts.

HUNTERS' LICENSES ISSUED TO DATE IS UP TO 6,000 TOTAL

Clearfield county hunters or at least that of them do not believe in putting off until tomorrow what they could do today. Accordingly they have rushed Clearfield County Treasurer Rumbolt and his staff of clerks with a veritable deluge of hunter's license applications.

The total number of hunter's licenses sold in Clearfield county thus far in 1922 will reach the 6,000 mark today.

The hunting season for small game opens one week from today and the license application is coming in by every mail to the extent of from three to four hundred per day, the indications being that the grand total for the year will be several hundred greater than 1921 when approximately 11,000 hunters were licensed in Clearfield county.

Flour "Aged"

Under the sun, for about sixty days, in a rule, allowing it to "age" before using. These flourmen point to this fact when bread loaves do not immediately increase in size in sympathy with a decline in the price of the miller's product.

Derivation of "Amethyst."

In ancient Greece amethysts were worn round the neck to prevent intoxication; hence the name, which means "unintoxicated."

Stewart's Drug Store

The End of It All.

Measuring things by dollars, by hours, by pounds and variations arises, and everything is measured in terms except the one thing we wish to measure, which is a man's soul. We are producing the material things of life faster, more cheaply, more abundantly, but it is open to question whether we are producing happier men and women, and that is what we are striving to do at the end of it all.

Nature's Gentleman.

With pitying admiration, one may call some ill-mannered but honest fellow creature a "nature's gentleman." But no one to this day has ever ventured to describe any woman as a "nature's lady."

Comb Sage Tea

INTO GRAY HAIR

Ladies! Try this! Darkens, beautifully and Nobody can tell—Brings back its gloss and Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, thought, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparations improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muck.

While gray, faded hair is not strictly, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You let darken a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking care to stand at a time by morning, all of its hairs have disappeared. After another application, or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and beautiful.

Gossip For Tonight's Tea Table

Charles Halford now knows that it pays to advertise in The Progress. The ad. for the sale of a stove, appeared on Monday and before the paper had been entirely circulated two inquiries were made as to the stove. The first caller purchased it, but that did not end Charles's troubles. All evening and all day Tuesday prospective purchasers invaded his home, sought him out at his blacksmith shop until he was forced to cry enough—or too much—and beat it up to this office to beg us for the sake of his peace of mind, to "please yank that ad out."

We did so, but last night after supper the inquiries continued to pour in, no less than three applications for Halford's stove being made to this office last evening.

The moral of this tale is, if you have anything to sell, slip an ad in The Progress; we'll do the rest.

RICH IN VITAMINES

MOXLEY'S DIXIE MARGARIN

CAN YOU DOUBT IT?

When the Proof Can Be So Easily Verified.

When so many great authorities as Clearfield testify to benefit derived from Moxley's Dixie Pills, can you doubt the evidence? The proof is so far away it is almost at your door. Read what a patient of C. R. Waple, 122 W. Front St., Clearfield, says: "I was troubled with a severe pain in the small of my back which caused a lot of distress. I also had severe headaches and a lame and tired leg all over. I purchased a box of Moxley's Dixie Pills and they did me a lot of good from the start. Two boxes of the medicine fixed me up in two days. Since then, when I have had an attack of that kind, I have used Moxley's and have always found good results."

THINKING WOMEN SENSIBLE.

no longer doubt the efficacy of that out-fashioned root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, because it relieves the ailments to which they are afflicted. In almost every neighborhood there are living witnesses of its wonderful effects. Therefore, if you doubt its value or power to help you, ask your neighbor. In nine times out of ten she has been benefited by its use or knows someone who has. It will pay you to give this root and herb medicine a trial.

BILL'S FIXING WATCHES RIGHT EVERY DAY

When a watch or clock is brought in to Bill it's a sure thing that it won't go out until it's running right and keeping the kind of time that you want it to keep.

No matter what may be the trouble with the watch or clock, we will go into the thing and first see where the trouble is and then proceed at once to remedy it.

Another thing, it doesn't make much difference what kind of a watch or clock it may be, I have had so much experience with the various makes that there's hardly a one that will "stump" me.
